

Roald Dahl Day

13 September 2017

Today was 'Roald Dahl day' across the United Kingdom and we joined in the celebration of one of our greatest children's authors by dressing up as some of the amazing characters in his book.

We had a great assembly and enjoyed seeing all the different costumes. In class we all did a range of activities that helped children to engage in the worlds within Roald's books.

As another of our great authors, Michael Morpurgo, says; 'Access to books and the encouragement of the habit of reading: these two things are the first and most necessary steps in education - and librarians, teachers and parents all over the country know it. It is our children's right and it is also our best hope and their best hope for the future.'
